<http://www.mtgsy.net>

Name and email addresses of people authorised to make changes to the account

Name and email address of Primary contact for any queries

Name and email address for invoicing

Payment for domain names

Domain names in the client's portfolio will be automatically renewed 30 days prior to expiry. Should a client wish to not renew a domain, the client must specifically delete this domain from their portfolio at least 40 days prior to expiry.

Domain names registered will be charged for at the published Platinum account rate.

Any outstanding balance on the clients account will be regularly billed. The billing interval will be either monthly or quarterly depending on the number of domains in the client's portfolio. Payment terms are strictly net within 30 days of invoice date.

Security and transfers

Microtech will accept emails from Nominated people in your organisation and take instructions from them regarding the management of your account. Identity will be verified either by digitally signed email communication or by us seeking additional verification of some form for each instruction, depending on its security importance

All domain names are 'locked' where possible to prevent fraudulent transfers.

Termination of agreement

The client may terminate the agreement with 7 days notice in writing. Any domain names transferred in free of charge will require payment of the standard transfer fee before release.
